Exploring the Mother Road

PASSPORT TO ADVENTURE:
A TRAVEL FILM SERIES
2016–2017

Central and South America

Thursday, September 15, 2016

Marlin Darrah. Journey with the world’s most travelled filmmaker and actor John Holod as he explores the Mother Road from Chicago to Los Angeles by motorhome. When Route 66 was commissioned in 1926, it soon became America’s “Main Street.” Now, replaced by interstates, it remains a nostalgic ribbon of mostly two-lane highway that reveals an America of yesteryear. Join John on this 2,000 mile RV journey as he explores classic drive-ins, gas stations and kitschy roadside attractions, all from the perspective of an RVer. Accompany John as he visits museums along the way and explores this fascinating highway. Come with us and rediscover America’s unique treasure, Route 66.

Clint and Sue Dent. Our journey begins in the springtime beauty of the Netherlands with visits through a countryside of windmills, canals, and lush green dairy farms, stops at poignant WWII historical sites and a tour of the tulips at the famous Keukenhof Gardens. We then journey to Brussell, Belgium to enjoy time in Sint, Brugges and Antwerp, where we marvel at the Notby Bridge and the fascinating cities. The second portion of our film captures the magic of the Christmas season in several exciting European countries. We begin in Prague, cruise to Nuremberg and medieval Regensburg, Germany, journey on to Salzburg and Vienna, Austria, and conclude in Budapest, Hungary. This whimsical tour demonstrates how each European city displays their individuality through bright decorations, brilliant lights, wreaths, and traditional finery and entertainment.

Sudan: The Inside Story

Wednesday, March 29, 2017

Karin Muller. Different than our standard travelogue films, Karin Muller spent three months in Sudan living in villages, humanitarian aid bases and refugee camps, and traveling with the Chadian military. After learning both Arabic and French, Muller was able to talk to and befriend an incredible range of locals and capture their stories in over 300 hours of raw footage. Known for her fearless curiosity, amazing lingual skills and knack for adapting to new environments, Muller gives her audiences a riveting look into one of the most complex and conflict-ridden countries in Africa. Muller’s career encompasses a wide range of major works of photography, literature and cinematography, including several books and numerous documentaries for National Geographic and PBS.

Promised Land:
Journeys in The Middle East

Wednesday, May 11, 2017

Rick Ray. I will plant Israel in their own land, never again to be uprooted from the land I have given them” – Amos 9:15. Our journey to the Promised Land brings us to Israel, Jordan and Turkey. Here we discover why throughout antiquity the cedars of Lebanon were prized above all other trees and how Jerusalem, one of the world’s foremost pilgrimage destinations, is divided into four quarters—Jewish, Armenian, Christian and Muslim. We travel to the geological oddity of Cappadocia with its honeycomb hills and towering balconies of otherworldly beauty, and we explore the unique government of Jordan from the Undercover King to its lost-fans regulations. Our journey also takes us to Israel in the North and to Wadi Rum and Petra in the South, including a stay at the amazing Ram Stars Bedouin Camp.

John Holod. After twenty-five times around the earth, six hundred thousand miles, documentary film producer John Holod will present his new film, Route 66: Exploring The Mother Road. Join filmmaker and RVer John Holod as he explores the Mother Road from Chicago to Los Angeles by motorhome. When Route 66 was commissioned in 1926, it soon became America’s “Main Street.” Now, replaced by interstates, it remains a nostalgic ribbon of mostly two-lane highway that reveals an America of yesteryear. Join John on this 2,000 mile RV journey as he explores classic drive-ins, gas stations and kitschy roadside attractions, all from the perspective of an RVer.
