Convergence

The commitment of Calvin College and its faculty to lives of teaching, scholarship, and service is on display in the many pages of this booklet. This is a record of our scholarly work for the period of July 1, 2007 through June 30, 2008. What you see is convergence—a coming together—of the best kind: multiple roles, multiple places, multiple kinds of work.

At Calvin we aim to do scholarship that enriches teaching, teaching that sparks scholarship, and all work in the context of a learning community that is devoted to serving God with heart and mind. It all comes together in exciting and varied ways. Take a look at the broad scope and deep level of the work we are doing. Calvin is a lively and rewarding place to be. Students participate front and center in most of this work, and together we live out our calling as agents for renewal.

We are grateful for the privilege we have been given to pursue this work at Calvin College, especially for support from foundations, donors, businesses, churches, and federal and state grants. We hope we have been faithful to our calling.
