

202 Architectural History II (4). S. A survey of the history of architecture from the Renaissance to the present. Although this course will concentrate primarily on the development of the historical and religious traditions of Europe, the development of non-Western traditions after 1500 will also be addressed. Slide lectures and class discussions. Intended for first- and second-year students.

203 Architectural Communication and Concept Design II (3). A continuation of ARCT 103, introducing pre-architecture students to more complex issues of architectural design, communication, and problem-solving. Course projects and discussions help students to experience architecture as a multi-disciplinary field involving philosophical, geographical, cultural, and sociological issues as well as design issues. Also listed as Engineering 203. Prerequisite: ARCT 103.

397 Architectural Theory and Criticism. S, odd years. A capstone seminar course for all juniors and seniors enrolled in the pre-architecture program, which re-examines the integral relationship between architectural theories and faith commitments. Special attention will be given to contemporary criticism. Students will address ethical and religious issues as they address various methods of architectural design and practice in preparation for careers in architecture and urban planning. Imaging and verbal discussions; a course paper is required. Prerequisites: Junior or senior standing.

Asian Studies

The Asian Studies curriculum is coordinated by the David and Shirley Hubers Asian Studies Program, an interdisciplinary program made up of several faculty members in various departments. The program director is Daniel H. Bays, Professor of History. The program offers both major and minor degrees.

The Major in Asian Studies consists of three tracks. The Calvin semester in China (STCH 203 and 204) may substitute for History 245 or 246 and Philosophy 225. The semester program at the Japan Center for Michigan Universities, because its curriculum varies somewhat from year to year, may substitute for such courses as may be decided appropriate by the Asian Studies advisor and the Committee for the Asian Studies Major. (D. Bays, History, Chair; K. Clark, Philosophy; L. Herzberg, Asian Languages; D. Obenchain, Religion)
