NOTES ON THE CURRICULUM.

COURSES.—The curriculum of the Preparatory School consists of four courses: A Seminary Preparatory, a Classical, a Modern Classical, and a Teachers' Course. In the Junior College three courses are offered, the classical and the modern classical courses being continuations of similar courses given in the Preparatory School. The seminary preparatory courses are intended for those who expect to take up theology. Graduates of the classical and modern classical courses in the Preparatory School can enter the University of Michigan without having to take the entrance examinations, provided the work done is of sufficiently high character.

THE TEACHERS' COURSE.—In this course are taught all the subjects needed for securing third, second, or first grade certificates; also many subjects that will give the general culture so necessary for teachers. In the last year of this course special instruction is given in pedagogy.

PRACTICAL WORK.—Arrangements having been made with certain schools in the city, students electing this course may gain experience in practical schoolwork under the supervision of competent teachers. The following practical work is required: Second year, two weeks of observing; the third year and the fourth year, two weeks of actual teaching during each year.

CHOICE OF COURSES.—The work of the first year in the Preparatory School is the same in all courses. At the beginning of the second year the student is to choose, with the approval of the parents and the advice of the faculty, between the different courses.

CHANGE OF COURSES.—If a student changes from one course to another, he will have to make up all the work required by the new course not done in the former course.

MAXIMUM NUMBER OF HOURS.—No student is allowed to carry more than twenty hours per week, except in special cases with the consent of the faculty.

UNCLASSIFIED STUDENTS.—Any person not having in view a special profession, but desiring a general education, can choose such studies as he likes in so far as he can be accommodated. Such person will be considered unclassified.

CO-EDUCATION.—To the courses offered in this College, the seminary preparatory course excepted, young ladies are also admitted.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSES OFFERED.*

The figure at the right of the name of the course indicates the year of the curriculum.

BIBLE STUDY.

PROFESSOR HEYNS.

Bible Study. One hour a week is devoted to Bible Study during each of the six years of the course. During the first three years the whole field of Sacred History is covered, the first two years being devoted to Old Testament History, and the third to New Testament History. During the last three years instruction is given in Biblical doctrines. In the last year of the Teachers' Course four hours a week are devoted to Biblical Doctrines, and one hour to Biblical Geography. Prof. Hemkes teaches the Geography. Texts: Smith's Old Testament History, Smith's New Testament History, Dictations or Lectures by the professors.

- German 4. Review of the Grammar. Translation of classic and modern prose and poetry: Fouque's Undine, Schiller's Wilhelm Tell. Tombo, Deutsche Reden.

PROFESSOR BERKHOF.

Hebrew 6. An elementary course. A careful study of the first forty lessons of Harper's Method and Manual and the Elements of Hebrew. Three times per week.

AESTHETICS AND LITERATURE.

Aesthetics 6. Fundamental principles of Aesthetics.

Literature 6. Study of subjects and problems in General Literature.

Three recitations per week. These courses not given in 1907-1908.

HISTORY,

PROFESSORS BROENE AND VAN DELLEN.

- General History 2. By the use of such a textbook as Meyer's General History, Revised Edition, the whole field of History is covered in a general way. Special attention is given to the more important points. Lectures are added wherever the subject demands it. Four times a week. Prof. Broene.
- American History 3. The study of American History has for its object to familiarize the student with the important facts and events of the history of our country and to equip him with a clear outline of American History as a foundation for more advanced study or more intelligent reading. Collateral reading is carried on as far as time and opportunity make it possible. Text: McLaughlin's History of the American Nation. Twice a week. Prof. Van Dellen.
- Civics 3. A study is made of the state and the national governments.

 The fundamental conceptions of government are studied in the light of Scriptures. With a view to those students who expect to teach, a few weeks are set aside for the study of the School Laws and the Constitution of Michigan. Text: Hinsdale's American Government. Twice a week. Prof. Van Dellen.
- Modern History 5. First semester attention is given to the European history of the 18th century. Textbook: Hassell's Balance of Power. The second semester is devoted to a study of the 19th century. Lectures and topics for additional research. Three times a week. Prof. Broene.

History of the Netherlands 6. This course aims to give a survey of Dutch History from earliest times to the present day. This is a valuable course in that it shows the rich contributions of Holland to the world's civilization, and particularly the influence of Holland upon the formation of American institutions. Text: De Jong's Geschiedenis des Vaderlands. Twice a week. Prof. Van Dellen.

MATHEMATICS.

PROFESSOR RINCK.

- Algebra 1. Through simple equations. Four times per week. Text: Beman and Smith's Academic Algebra.
- Algebra 2. Continuation of Algebra 1. Through quadratic equations.

 Two times per week. Text same as in Course 1.
- Geometry 3. Plane Geometry. Demonstrations, exercises. Four times per week. Text: Beman and Smith's New Plane and Solid Geometry.
- Geometry 4. Solid Geometry. Continuation of Geometry 3. Two times per week. Text same as in Course 3.
- Arithmetic 4. A teachers' course. Fundamental notions are thoroughly reviewed; the logic of the subject is emphasized; methods of teaching are indicated; some attention is paid to the historical development of the subject. Two times per week. Text: Wentworth's Advanced Arithmetic.
- Algebra 5. Quadratic equations reviewed, graphical representation, mathematical induction, binominal theorem, progressions, permutations and combinations, complex numbers, elements of theory of equations, determinants, logarithms. Three times per week during first semester. Text: Hawkes' Advanced Algebra.
- Trigonometry 5. Plane Trigonometry. Three times per week during second semester. Text: Crockett's Elements of Plane and Spherical Trigonometry with Tables.

Analytic Geometry 6. Plane Analytic Geometry and introduction to Solid Analytic Geometry. Three times per week. Text: Tanner and Allen's Analytic Geometry.

NATURAL SCIENCE.

PROFESSORS KUIPER, BROENE, RINCK, AND VAN DELLEN.

- Physiography 1. The Atmosphere. The laws of heat and of mechanics of fluids are first studied to make the atmospheric phenomena easy of comprehension. The course is interspersed with lectures, dealing with the fundamental principles of the study of nature, and intending to counteract the anti-scriptural and atheistic tendencies of evolution so common in textbooks upon this subject. Text: Tarr's New Physical Geography. Four times a week. Prof. Kuiper.
- Botany 2. One year is given to this subject, including textbook, laboratory, and field work. The student is taught to observe and investigate for himself. The morphology, nutrition, growth, movements, and reproduction of both lower and higher plants are carefully studied, especially with reference to plant ecology. Throughout the course the student's attention is called to the Christian principles underlying the study of this subject. Text: Bergen and Davis' Principles of Botany. Four times a week. Prof. Van Dellen.
- Geography 3. This course is intended for prospective teachers and consists in a thorough drill in the whole subject. Text: Dodge's Advanced Geography. Twice a week. Prof. Broene.
- Physiology 3. This subject deals with the anatomy, physiology, and hygiene of the human body. Some attention is also given to the physiological processes from a comparative standpoint. Throughout the course the student's attention is called to the Christian principles underlying the study of the subject. The course is designed especially for prospective teachers. Text: Peabody's Physiology. Twice a week. Prof. Van Dellen.

Physics 4. Recitations three times a week, lectures and demonstrations twice a week. Text: Carhart and Chute's High School Physics. Prof. Rinck.

PHILOSOPHY.

PROFESSOR KUIPER.

- Pedagogy 4. Short course in Psychology as an introduction. The principles and methods of teaching. Practical work in our Christian schools. The pedagogical principles in general and the psychological principles in particular, as laid down in Scripture, form the basis for instruction in this subject. Divine authority according to the ordinances of creation is represented as the leading principle in all education. White's Elements of Pedagogy. Twice a week.
- Psychology 5. The soul and its faculties. Exposition and criticism of various schools. McCosh's Psychology. Twice a week.
- Logic 6. Whereas Psychology treats of the thinking soul, this course considers the laws which the soul has to obey in order to think correctly. Hibben's Logic. Twice a week.
- History of Philosophy 6. Exposition and criticism of the various systems that have been thought out to explain, without regard to the Word of God, the origin, relations, and end of all that exists. Weber's History of Philosophy. Three times a week.
- Pedagogical Problems 6. A study of fundamental problems, especially from the standpoint of faith, to supply students with ideas and methods for scientific study. Two recitations per week. Not given in 1907-1908.

ELOCUTION.

PROFESSOR VAN DELLEN.

Public Speaking 5-6. The aim in this course is to develop the student's natural qualities so as to make him a direct, forceful speaker. The work, while essentially practical, is based on a study of principles. Texts: Fulton and Trueblood's Practical Elocution, Fulton and Trueblood's Standard Selections. One hour per week.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

LOCATION.

The school is located in one of the best residence districts of the city of Grand Rapids, at the corner of Fifth and Madison Avenues. It is about a mile and a half distant from the business and manufacturing centers, and in one of the highest and healthiest parts of the town.

Grand Rapids, a city of about 100,000 inhabitants, is the county seat of Kent county and the metropolis of Western Michigan. It is beautifully situated on both banks of the Grand River at the head of navigation. Its furniture industries have made it famous throughout our country. Many railroads center here, making it easily accessible from all points. Interurban lines connect it with neighboring towns and villages, and enable students living along these lines to reduce expenses by going back and forth from day to day between their home and the school.

Although so largely dependent upon its manufacturing interests, the city of Grand Rapids is nevertheless essentially a city of homes and can justly be called beautiful. The wide, well graded, and pleasantly shaded streets are adorned with many elegant private residences, handsome churches, and public buildings.

A large city offers many advantages and they are all at the command of the students. The public library, a new building, displaying true architectural art, has a large collection of books, among which are found many standard works, and a reading room supplied with valuable works of reference and leading periodicals. The management is efficient and the attendants ever show the kindest helpfulness. The students also have the opportunity of hearing lecturers and speakers of high reputation who visit the city.

THE COLLEGE.

The efforts that have, of late years, been put forth towards the extension of the literary department of the Theological School of the Christian Reformed Church to a Junior College have been met with gratifying success. Sufficient funds were secured by subscription to enable the Synod at its recent session to establish the Junior College. Accordingly, courses of study have been outlined covering a period of six years, the first four of which constitute the Preparatory School and furnish an education equivalent, in a general way, to that of a high school or academy, while the last two years, making the Junior College, are equivalent to the Freshman and Sophomore classes of a complete college or university.

Character of the College—The institution is supported mostly by the members of the Christian Reformed Church, and is controlled by the Board of Trustees of the Theological School of this church. According to the constitution all instruction given must be in harmony with "Reformed Principles." The various branches of study, therefore, are considered from the standpoint of faith and in the light of Calvinism as a life and world view. Herein lies the distinctive character of our college.

EQUIPMENT.

The school building is a modern structure of red brick trimmed with grey stone, and is furnished with the latest conveniences. The recitation rooms are cheerful, well lighted and ventilated.

The reading room and library are open to the students during study hours. Books may also be drawn from the library subject to certain rules. In the reading room various papers and magazines are found. The library contains many valuable works and owing to the liberality of one of its patrons is in the possession of a handsome endowment fund. There is still, however, great need of enlarging it, and gifts in the form of either books or money will be highly welcome. The botanical and physical laboratories are equipped with useful apparatus, to which additions are made from time to time.

ADMISSION AND ADVANCED STANDING.

Applicants for admission to the first class of the Literary Department are accepted on the presentation of a certificate from a good school, testifying that they have finished the work of the eighth grade, or on passing an examination in the branches taught in the Grammar School. In exceptional cases promising young men of mature years, who desire to study for the ministry, but have not had all the required preliminary training, may be admitted to the first class of the Preparatory School on probation. All applicants must, moreover, present a satisfactory written testimonial of good moral conduct. Those who intend to study for the ministry must in addition present a recommendation from their consistory.

Candidates for advanced standing will be placed in the highest class for which they seem fit.

The regular time for admission is at the beginning of each term, in September and January. The Faculty, however, has the right to accept students, who meet the requirements, during the current school year.

DISMISSION.

Students are amenable to the regulations of the school from the time of their arrival; it is but right to add here, that the general disposition of the students is such, as to require but seldom a formal enforcement of these regulations. Should a student's conduct, however, become detrimental to his own or the school's best interest, the Faculty will suspend him after due warning; and in case no improvement results, the withdrawal of such a student may be required. Any student in good standing may, upon his request, receive honorable dismission.

EXAMINATIONS.

The examinations held in this institution at the close of the first semester and of the entire school year are either written or oral. Generally speaking, they are conducted by the faculty, and passed upon by a committee of the Board of Trustees.

PROMOTIONS.

At the end of the year the Board of Trustees, upon recommendation of the Faculty, promotes students to more advanced work. The promotion is based in part upon the class work, in part upon examinations during the year which may be either oral or written, or both, as may be thought best by the professor in charge of the branch; and in part upon the final examination. Should the average standing in any subject at the end of the school year be below 75 per cent, the student will be promoted to a higher class only on condition that the deficiency be made up. Regular examinations for the removal of such conditions are held at the opening of the next school year. If a student fails in removing his condition before the end of the next school year, he will not be admitted to the regular examinations held at that time.

Anyone, whose standing falls below 75 in an amount of work corresponding to more than eight recitations per week, will be dropped from his class.

Report cards are sent out to the parents at the end of each semester.

CERTIFICATES AND DIPLOMAS.

The School issues the following certificates and diplomas:

A certificate to those who have completed the work of the Teachers' Preparatory Course.

A certificate to those who have completed the work required for graduation in the Classical or Modern Classical Course of the Preparatory School. This certificate admits, without examination, to the University of Michigan as well as to our own College Department.

A diploma to those who have finished the work of the Seminary Preparatory Course. This diploma admits to the Theological Department.

When no full course is completed a statement is given of the studies in which the student passed examination.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

The school year of thirty-six weeks is divided into two semesters of eighteen weeks each.

Two vacations are given during the year: A vacation of two weeks at the Christmas holidays, and a spring vacation of one week at Easter. Students are required to remain on duty until the last school exercise preceding a vacation is completed, and to be present at the hour of opening after a vacation.

MEETINGS.

There is a gathering of teachers and students, "Krans," every Friday evening, which has for its object the cultivation of elocution, the acquisition of knowledge, and the promotion of brotherly love. The exercises consist of sermonizing, delivering of orations, reading of essays, etc. Criticism of the productions rendered is given by both students and Faculty. Attendance is required of all those who study for the ministry.

The students have a literary society, "Corps," with two branches, "A," for the theological students and the members of the sixth class, and "B," for the members of the first five classes. The latter meets every two weeks, the former once every month for debate and other literary exercises and both are under the supervision of the Faculty and Board of Trustees. The spirit of the society finds expression in its motto: "Credimus ut Intelligamus."

RELIGIOUS CULTURE.

Each school day is begun with devotional exercises held in the Chapel at 8 A. M. Religious instruction, either doctrinal or historical, is given in all the classes. Several classes have been organized by the students themselves for the study of missions and mission literature.

On the Sabbath students are expected to worship regularly with the churches in the city. Abundant opportunity is offered in the city and vicinity to those students, who wish to engage in Sunday School instruction or other kinds of Christian work.

EXPENSES.

The annual tuition fee is twenty-six dollars; for two from the same family, twenty dollars each; for a third, ten dollars more. Half of it must be paid to the treasurer at the beginning of the school year; the other half during the month of April.

The graduation fee in the Preparatory School is five dollars. The same fee is charged at the completion of the six year Seminary Preparatory Course.

Board with room, fuel, and light, in good families, is furnished for from three to four dollars a week. In the dormitory connected with the School, board and room may be had at an even lower figure.

Expenses including board, room rent, fuel, light, washing, and text books, are from two to three hundred dollars a year.

MAINTENANCE AND ENDOWMENTS.

For these the School is indebted largely to the kind and generous support of the members of the Christian Reformed Church. From year to year with the growing of the church, the contributions have become larger and have fully met the demands of the School, while it has in turn supplied the church with pastors who have shown themselves pious and active workers for the cause of Christ.

In recent years some special donations have been made and the donors will ever be held in grateful remembrance for their kind acts by those to whom the institution is dear.

However, the school is still greatly in need of endowments for increasing the force of teachers, for extending the course of study, etc.; and donations for these purposes would be very welcome.

INFORMATION.

The Principal will be glad to furnish all possible information with reference to the College, and correspondence is cordially invited.

GENERAL REMARKS.

·The Seminary.—The Seminary is maintained and supervised by the Christian Reformed Church, its aim being both to make a scientific study of theology, and to prepare young men for the ministry. All instruction given by the theological professors must be in harmony with the standards of the Church,—the Reformed Confessional writings.

Opening.—The school year of 1908-1909 begins the first week in September. On Thursday, September 3d, at 9 A. M., all new students must present themselves for matriculation. On the evening of the same day the formal opening of the Seminary takes place, at which occasion the retiring rector, Prof. Berkhof, delivers the usual rectoral oration and confers the rectorate upon his successor.

Admission.—Every person who wishes to matriculate as a student of the Seminary must be in possession of the following: First, a written testimonial from his consistory showing that he is a church member in full communion and in good standing; secondly, a diploma showing that he is a graduate of the College connected with the Seminary, or that he has completed an equivalent course of study elsewhere. If he does not have such diploma, he may enter by submitting to an examination in the necessary studies.

Tuition.—No matriculation fees are charged. The tuition fee is twenty-six dollars a year, to be paid in two installments. For those living west of the Mississippi River or east of Ohio, tuition is only thirteen dollars per year.

Examinations.—Oral examinations are held at the close of every school year in the presence of the Board of Trustees.

- Graduation.—Upon completing the prescribed course of study of three years, graduates are awarded a diploma. The graduation fee is ten dollars.
- "Krans."—This is a gathering held every Friday evening at which Professors and all students studying for the ministry, both in the College and in the Seminary, are required to be present. The exercises consist of the delivery of sermons and orations, and the reading of essays. By means of these exercises, as well as by criticism and friendly intercourse, thorough preparation for the ministry is specifically sought.
- "Corps."—The students of the Seminary, together with the senior class of the Seminary Preparatory course of the College, maintain an organization called "Corps," its aim being to promote propriety of conduct and manners, to cultivate Christian character, and to foster scientific and literary effort.
- Information.—For further information apply to the rector, Prof. L. Berkhof, 280 Worden Street.

COURSES OF STUDY.

EXEGETICAL THEOLOGY.

PROFESSOR BERKHOF.

A. OLD TESTAMENT.

- Hebrew Language.—This is taught in the propaedeutic year and in the first and second years of the Theological Course. The first year is devoted to a careful study of the first forty lessons of Harper's "Method and Manual" and the "Elements of Hebrew." In the second year the remaining lessons of the "Method and Manual" are mastered and a part of one of the historical books is translated. And the third year is devoted to a careful translation of portions of the historical or prophetic books, with a study of the vocabulary and of the principles of syntax as they are illustrated in the text.
- Exegesis.—Introduction and interpretation of a part of the prophecies of Isaia. A study of his social and religious teachings in their historical setting.
- Isagogics.—Introduction to the canonical Scriptures of the Old Testament. This course follows closely Raven's "Old Testament Introduction," with fuller elaboration of some of the most important points. To be given in 1908-9.
- Sacred History.—This course aims at giving a general view of the historical facts that are recorded in the Old Testament, and of their import in the history of revelation. Given in 1907-8.

B. NEW TESTAMENT.

New Testament Greek.—Critical translation of a part of the Apocalypse and a part of the Epistle to the Hebrews. A study of synonyms and of the leading terms of the text. The syntax of the New Testament Greek.

- Hermeneutics.—The aim of this course is to give a general survey of the history of interpretation, and to discuss the principles, methods and rules that are to be applied in the interpretation of the Bible, particularly of the New Testament.
- Exegesis.—Introduction and exposition of a part of the Epistle to the Romans.
- Isagogics.—Introduction to the canonical Scriptures of the New Testament. Authorship, occasion, history, purpose, inspiration, and contents of the several New Testament books are discussed. Given in 1907-8.
- Sacred History.—The historical facts that are narrated in the Gospels and in the Acts of the Apostles are studied, and their significance in the development of the Kingdom of God emphasized. The work is based on Van Andel's "Bijbelsche Geschiedenis." To be given in 1908-9.

PROFESSOR HEMKES.

- Geography of the Holy Land and Jewish Antiquities.—This course is offered because it is particularly helpful to the understanding of the Scriptural revelation. Beuker's "Bijbelsche Archaeologie en Aardrijkskunde" is used as textbook.
- Textual Criticism.—The aim of this course is to give a brief survey of the history of textual criticism, and to discuss its proper methods and praxis.

HISTORICAL THEOLOGY.

PROFESSOR HEMKES.

- History of Pseudo-Religions.—The object of this course is to become acquainted with the different non-Christian religions, in order to be more able to defend the Christian religion.
- Church History.—The first year is devoted to a study of the Ancient and the Middle periods in Ecclesiastical History, preceded by a general review of the condition of the church under the Old Testament. In the second year the Modern period, from the Reformation until the present time, is studied. The third year is devoted mainly to a more detailed study of the history of the Churches in the Netherlands, of those in America, and especially of our own Church. Throughout these years the history is studied from a "Reformed" point of view. Kurtz's "Manual of Church History" is used as textbook.

PROFESSOR KUIPER.

. Church Polity.—Exposition as to what the form of the Church as an institution for the ministration of the Word should be according to Holy Scripture; discussion of the privileges and duties of both the members and the assemblies of the church. Comparison and criticism of divergent systems of church polity.

SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY.

PROFESSOR TEN HOOR.

- Theological Encyclopaedia.—The concept, object, and contents of Theology as one organic whole. The differentiation and organic unity of the divisions and sub-divisions.
- The History of Doctrines.—Development of the several doctrines in the course of centuries.
- Symbolics.—The various Confessions of Faith. Historically the origin of the Confessions of the different churches is traced, and dogmatically they are compared, and the agreement and difference between the various Confessions and our Reformed Standards are pointed out. Biesterveld's "Symboliek" is followed in the main.
- Introduction to Dogmatics.—Exposition of the principles of Theology and Religion in general and of dogmatics in particular. Comparison and criticism of the different tendencies in Theology, with the Bible, which is recognized as the only source for Dogmatics, as criterion.
- Dogmatics.—The aim of this study is to show, how the several dogmas have been derived from the Holy Scriptures, how they have been one-sidedly distorted to right or to left, what their Scriptural meaning is, how they are related and together form one whole, and finally how our practice should be determined by these truths.

Ethics.—While in Dogmatics a study is made of what we should believe, in Ethics the aim is to determine how we should be and conduct ourselves. The distinction is made clear between philosophical and theological Ethics. The contents of the latter are derived from Holy Scripture alone.

PRACTICAL THEOLOGY.

PROFESSOR HEYNS.

- Homiletics.—History of preaching; the principles to be observed in order that preaching may truly be ministration of the Word; the demands of Rhetoric in the composition and delivery of a sermon; exercises in analyzing texts and in making and criticising sermon outlines; weekly preaching by the students in their respective turns before the whole student body and members of the faculty.
- Catechetics.—History, character, material, and methods of catechetical instruction.
- Liturgics.—Historical study of the forms of worship in different periods; principles according to which worship and religious services should be conducted.
- Poimenics.—Study of the pastoral work required by the Holy Scriptures of the minister of the Word, his conduct in house to house visitation, in visitation of the sick, and in special cases.
- Church Government.—Study of our church constitution and its amendments, with suggestions relative to their application in practice.
