

WORSHIP RENEWAL AND VISUAL ART

Creating visual art as a community can draw people of all ages and abilities together.

Creating visual art that flows from an in-depth study of Scripture can help worshipers engage more deeply in worship.

Creating visual art helps people discover gifts they did not know they possess.

Creating visual art together creates a spirit of harmony within the congregation.

Acknowledging the gifts of artists in the congregation often gives them a place in worship and congregational life that they had never before experienced.

Artistic gifts of children can teach profound lessons to others in the congregation.

Visual art that is created by a congregation has lasting value to the members of the congregation.
