This is a table of contents for a collection of Psalms. Each entry is followed by a page number indicating where the corresponding Psalm can be found.
The Psalms are the paradigm for God’s people in prayer. They express the full range of human emotion – joy, anger, sorrow, and fear – and engage God in praise, lament, confession, thanksgiving, adoration, and more. It’s a remarkable thing to combine this variety with the particular ability of jazz music to express devotional thought and feeling with power and nuance. But it’s a difficult thing to find good jazz music fitting for congregational use. This booklet is one small offering to help relieve that difficulty.

These pages, and the accompanying CD, contain 14 Psalms set to a jazz backdrop. They were originally prepared for Jazz Vespers at Calvin College, a multi-sensory prayer service that is led each week by Daniel Richardson and a team of students. (For more information about Jazz Vespers, see Reformed Worship, #70, pp. 42-43) Congregations and combos with even modest jazz chops should be able to use these pages to sing a new Psalm to the Lord.

Musical, Liturgical, and Technical Notes:

- In standard jazz notation, $G^7$ indicates a G major chord with a dominant 7th. $G^7$ indicates a minor chord with a dominant 7th, and $G^7$ indicates a major chord with a major 7th.
- The verses of the Psalms can be spoken over the chord changes, as on the CD. The words in bold indicate where the first beat of each bar might fall in order to speak the verses at the right pace to finish the words and music at the same time.
- Jazz is often syncopated. The sheet music here has tried to capture the proper rhythms, but listening to the CD is the best way to learn them.
- Many of the songs are offered in multiple keys – the first is the original key on the CD, the second is one that might be in a better range for congregational use.
- Not every verse of every Psalm is printed here. Feel free to select different verses from the longer Psalms, or even use a different Psalm with a particular refrain. For instance, you might use “Praise the Name of the Lord” (#13) with Psalm 107, or 148, 113, or many others.
- The refrains are offered here in a melody-only format to be projected using an overhead machine or PowerPoint. They may also be copied and inserted into a bulletin.
- All copies should be accompanied by the copyright statement: © 2004 Daniel Richardson and Angel Napieralski. All rights reserved. Used by permission.
- If your congregation reports song use to CCLI, please fill in your own CCLI license number and report your use of these Psalms.
- Though the music is offered here, the refrains are memorable, and most congregations, if led well, should be able to sing them without any printed music.
- All the scripture used is taken from the NRSV, © National Council of Churches, 1989.
- Special thanks to the Calvin Institute for Christian Worship (www.calvin.edu/worship) for inspiration and support.

1. Psalm 100 – Make a Joyful Noise

Genevan 134 (Old Hundredth) Louis Bourgeois (1551)
Arr. Daniel Richardson

3 Know that the Lord is God. It is he that made us, and we are his;
we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

4 Enter his gates with thanksgiving, and his courts with praise.
Give thanks to him, bless his name.

5 For the Lord is good; his steadfast love endures forever, and his faithfulness to all generations. Refrain.

Make a joyful noise

to the Lord in all the earth. Worship the Lord with gladness.

Come into his presence with song.

2a. Psalm 139 – YouCreated My Innermost Being

Daniel Richardson and Angel Napieralski

O Lord, you have searched me and known me.
You know when I sit down and when I rise up;
you discern my thoughts from far away.
You search out my path and my lying down,
and are acquainted with all my ways.
Even before a word is on my tongue, O Lord, you know it completely. Refrain.

If I ascend to heaven, you are there;
if I make my bed in Sheol, you are there.
If I take the wings of the morning and settle at the farthest limits of the sea, even there your hand shall lead me, and your right hand shall hold me fast. Refrain.

13 For it was you who formed my inward parts; you knit me together in my mother's womb.

14 I praise you, for I am fearfully and wonderfully made. Wonderful are your works; that I know very well.

15 My frame was not hidden from you, when I was being made in secret, intricately woven in the depths of the earth. Refrain.

3. Psalm 63 - My Soul Thirsts for God

Daniel Richardson and Angel Napieralski

Refrain

My soul thirsts for God, the living God.

Verses

I O God, you are my God, I seek you, my soul thirsts for you;

my flesh faints for you, as in a dry and weary land where there is no water.

2 So I have looked upon you in the sanctuary, beholding your power and glory.

3 Because your steadfast love is better than life, my lips will praise you. Refrain.

4 So I will bless you as long as I live;
    I will lift up my hands and call on your name.

5 My soul is satisfied as with a rich feast, and my mouth praises you with joyful lips

6 when I think of you on my bed, and meditate on you in the watches of the night;

7 for you have been my help, and in the shadow of your wings I sing for joy. Refrain.

41 Let your steadfast love come to me, O Lord, your salvation according to your promise.
42 Then I shall have an answer for those who taunt me, for I trust in your word.

5. Psalm 79 - Help Us, O God, Our Savior

Daniel Richardson and Angel Napieralski

1 O God, the nations have come into your inheritance;
   they have defiled your holy temple;
   they have laid Jerusalem in ruins.

2 They have given the bodies of your servants to the birds of the air for food, the flesh of your faithful to the wild animals of the earth.

3 They have poured out their blood like water all around Jerusalem, and there was no one to bury them. Refrain.

8 Do not remember against us the iniquities of our ancestors; let your compassion come speedily to meet us, for we are brought very low.
9 Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of your name; deliver us, and forgive our sins, for your name's sake. Refrain.

11 Let the groans of the prisoners come before you; according to your great power preserve those doomed to die.
12 Return sevenfold into the bosom of our neighbors the taunts with which they taunted you, O Lord!
13 Then we your people, the flock of your pasture, will give thanks to you forever; from generation to generation we will recount your praise. Refrain.

6. Psalm 27 - The Lord is My Light and My Stronghold

Daniel Richardson & Angel Napieralski

1. The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear?
    The Lord is the stronghold of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?

2. When evildoers assail me to devour my flesh — my adversaries and foes — they shall stumble and fall.

3. Though an army encamp against me, my heart shall not fear;
    though war rise up against me, yet I will be confident.
    The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear?
    The Lord is the stronghold of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? Refrain.

4. One thing I asked of the Lord, that will I seek after:
    to live in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to inquire in his temple.

5. For he will hide me in his shelter in the day of trouble;
    he will conceal me under the cover of his tent; he will set me high on a rock.

6. Now my head is lifted up above my enemies all around me, and I will offer in his tent sacrifices with shouts of joy;
    I will sing and make melody to the Lord. Refrain.

11. Teach me your way, O Lord, and lead me on a level path because of my enemies.
12. Do not give me up to the will of my adversaries, for false witnesses have risen against me, and they are breathing out violence.
13. I believe that I shall see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living.
14. Wait for the Lord; be strong, and let your heart take courage; wait for the Lord! Refrain.

7a. Psalm 92 - Though the Wicked Spring Up Like Grass

Daniel Richardson and Angel Napieralski

1 It is good to give thanks to the Lord, to sing praises to your name, O Most High; 2 to declare your steadfast love in the morning, and your faithfulness by night, 3 to the music of the lute and the harp,
to the melody of the lyre.
4 For you, O Lord, have made me glad by your work; at the works of your hands I sing for joy. Refrain.
(Psalm 92, continued)

5 How great are your works, O Lord! Your thoughts are very deep!
6 The dullard cannot know, the stupid cannot understand this:
7 though the wicked sprout like grass and all evildoers flourish, they are doomed to destruction forever,
8 but you, O Lord, are on high forever.
   9 For your enemies, O Lord, for your enemies shall perish; Refrain.

12 The righteous flourish like the palm tree, and grow like a cedar in Lebanon.
13 They are planted in the house of the Lord;
   they flourish in the courts of our God.
14 In old age they still produce fruit; they are always green and full of sap, 15 showing that the Lord is upright;
   he is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in him. Refrain.

Daniel Richardson and Angel Napieralski

1 Have mercy on me, O God, according to your steadfast love; according to your abundant mercy blot out my transgressions.
2 Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin.
3 For I know my transgressions, and my sin is ever before me.
4 Against you, you alone, have I sinned, and done what is evil in your sight. Refrain.

6 You desire truth in the inward being; therefore teach me wisdom in my secret heart.
7 Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean; wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

12. Psalm 19 – There Is No Speech or Language

Daniel Richardson and Angel Napieralski

7 The law of the Lord is perfect, reviving the soul;
the decrees of the Lord are sure, making wise the simple;
8 the precepts of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart;
the commandment of the Lord is clear, enlightening the eyes;

the ordinances of the Lord are true and righteous altogether.
10 More to be desired are they than gold… Refrain.

4b In the heavens he has set a tent for the sun,
5 which comes out like a bridegroom from his wedding canopy, and like a strong man runs its course with joy.
6 Its rising is from the end of the heavens, and its circuit to the end of them; and nothing is hid from its heat.
14 Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable to you, O Lord, my rock and my redeemer. Refrain.

1 The heavens are telling the glory of God; and the firmament proclaims his handiwork.
2 Day to day pours forth speech, and night to night declares knowledge.

14a. Psalm 98 - Sing, Sing a New Song to the Lord God

Genevan 98 (1551), Arr. Daniel Richardson

Text: Ps. 98 versified by Dewey Westra, 1931, © Psalter Hymnal 1987

1. Sing, sing a new song to the Lord God for all the wonders he has wrought; his right hand and his arm most holy the victory to him have brought.

2. Shout, make a joyful noise before him, O all the earth his praises sing;
   with harp and trumpet sound adore him, make music to the Lord, the King.
   Let oceans roar with all their fullness the world and all who dwell therein, proclaim the power of God with boldness, exalt him ever and again.

3. Let all the streams in joyous union now clap their hands and praise accord, let mountains sing in glad communion, and skip for joy before the Lord.
   He comes, he comes to judge the people, arrayed in truth and equity:
   he shall redeem the world from evil, and righteous shall his judgment be.
14b. Psalm 98 – Sing, Sing a New Song to the Lord God
(in a higher key)
Genevan 98 (1551), Arr. Daniel Richardson
Text: Ps. 98 versified by Dewey Westra, 1931, © Psalter Hymnal 1987

1. Sing, sing a new song to the Lord God for all the wonders he has wrought;
his right hand and his arm most holy the victory to him have brought.

2. Shout, make a joyful noise before him, O all the earth his praises sing;
with harp and trumpet sound adore him, make music to the Lord, the King.
Let oceans roar with all their fullness the world and all who dwell therein, proclaim the power of God with boldness, exalt him ever and again.

3. Let all the streams in joyous union now clap their hands and praise accord, let mountains sing in glad communion, and skip for joy before the Lord.
He comes, he comes to judge the people, arrayed in truth and equity;
he shall redeem the world from evil, and righteous shall his judgment be.
